

Examples of peeling paint on concrete and crumbling concrete on bases of houses in the COP HOA.

I spoke to the cement contractor who was working in the neighborhood today. I showed him the issue of peeling and crumbling concrete on the concrete slabs of our houses. He said that this condition is caused by excess moisture laying next to the houses. The bubblers are too close to the houses. They need to be moved further away from the foundations and the areas patched in order to stop this condition.
